Dear Oshkosh Supplier Partners,

We find ourselves in uncharted waters as the world adapts to changes driven by the COVID-19 pandemic. Our first priority is the safety and wellbeing of people. Our team members, customers, suppliers, communities and investors are at the forefront as we navigate this dynamic situation. We are committed to frequent and open communication and want to provide an update to you, our partners in progress, with what we are doing in response to COVID-19.

As an organization, we have taken many preventive measures to protect our team members and support continued operations by focusing on limiting the potential spread of the virus.

Some of the actions we have taken include:

- ensuring high-touch areas in our facilities are cleaned frequently
- regular communications with team members to follow guidance from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC)
- limiting global and domestic business travel
- practicing social distancing measures
- canceling or rescheduling company events
- encouraging team members to work remotely when possible
- encouraging team members to maintain a minimum amount of space between other individuals
- creation of an enhanced visitor policy for our facilities to limit visits to business-critical items
- executing supply chain plans with our supply base to minimize the potential impact on our operations

We ask for your partnership during this challenging time.

- Please be vigilant and communicate any risks or issues that may affect the safety of your team members, who are an important part of our success.
- Continuously review our demand signals for changes.
- Notify our supply chain team of any issues related to continuity of supply or relevant business changes.

At this time, all of our manufacturing operations remain open and are operating at normal production.

We will continue to monitor the situation so we can make informed decisions in the best interest of our team members, customers, suppliers, communities and investors.

Thank you for your support,

Tina Schoner
Senior Vice President, Chief Procurement Officer
